NEWS OF THE DAY.

Turkey it is said, has definitely ceded the island of Cyprus to Great Britain. The cession of the island is said to have been due to clauses in the Anglo-Turkish entente.

James Baneskiewiz, 12 years old, of Baltimore, perched on the top of a freight car sidetracked near a baseball field, was struck by a foul ball yesterday and was almost instantly killed.

Gen. Hsu Pao San was killed by a physical culture school of Chicago, opening a box in the belief that it contained porcelain, of which he was an ardent collector. He had sent for a piece of porcelain, and when the box arrived he attempted to pry off the cover. A terrific explosion resulted, and he was hurled with great force to the opposite end of the room. A servant was also instantly killed. The general, who was known as "Tiger Hsu," was a strong supporter of President Yuan Shi Kai, and the object of bitter hatred to the southern extremists.

Frank Carbone, a member of a bomb in Shanghai yesterday, while died yesterday from injuries believed to have been received while sparring in the school last Tuesday. The police have been unable to locate the owner of the school nor learn the identity of the person with whom Carbone was sparring.

Hundreds of passengers were thrown into a panic, one man was crowned, and two boys injured yesterday when an automobile with three passengers started forward on a ferryboat entering the dock at Camden, N. J., and was brought to a standstill only after it had plunged halway over the front of the boat.

Caught under their automobile the machine turned turtle on the road to Saegertown four miles from Meadville, Pa., Thomas L. Riordan, and Edwin Bender, were burned to death yesterday morning.

Burglars took possession of the residence of William Yager, in Chicago early yesterday morning, and after locking the family and the servants in their respective quarters, cutting the telephone wires, and switching off the electric lights, stole $20,000 worth of jewelry.

Angelina Sandelvich, 6 years old, who was lured from her home in Plains, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Tuesday by an unidentified man, was found Saturday in a clump of bushes along the Susquehanna river at Plainsville, almost dead from starvation and an attack that had been perpetrated by her abductor. Angelina and her brother John were at play near her home, when a strange man appeared and offered to buy candy for the girl. She followed him and John also went along. The boy was sent back. The last he saw of the man and his sister they were going in the direction of a lonesome strip of territory.

The American steamer Nevada, with about 300 persons aboard struck a stray Turkish mine on leaving the port of Smyrna, Saturday morning. The Nevada sank, and it is feared that about 265 lives were lost, including several English people. The ship went down immediately by the head, and when the water reached the engine-room there was an explosion that killed many of the crew outright. A number of the crew of a French steamer were also drowned when their boat struck a mine. They had started to resue passengers of the Nevada.

Floral Boat Passes City.

A little boat, unmanned, its cargo a large wreath of red and white roses and smilax drifted down the Potomac river to the sea last night. The boat and its floral burden were the silent tribute paid to the memory not only of the sailors, but of the soliders and marines whose lives have been sacrificed in defense of the nation.

From the wharf at Washington barracks, where the simple commemorative exercises were held in memory of the dead yesterday afternoon, the flower laden boat was towed for a half mile down the river. It was then turned adrift and left to the favor of wind and tide in its unchartered and unguided voyage to the Atlantic.

PRIZE FIGHT ARENA WIPED OUT BY FIRE

Firebug at Work at Scene of Killing of McCarty on Saturday.

THRILLING SCENES.

Victim's Neck Dislocated and Spinal Cord Ruptured According to Finding of Jury.

Calgary, Alberta, May 26. — The prize fight arena in which Luther McCarty was killed Saturday, during the fight with Arthur Pelky, was destroyed by fire of incendiary origin early today..

Four persons narrowly escaped death in the blaze—Wesley Benson, his wife and children, who were sleeping the building and fled just before the walls collapsed.

The fire was not discovered until nearly midnight and then had gained too great a headway to be extinguished.

The formal inquest into the death of McCarty has begun. Managers of the two fighters, seconds and all the newspaper men at the ringside are giving testimony.

Dr. H. H. Moshier testified that McCarty's death was caused by a broken or dislocated neck, which caused a rupture of the spinal chord and a hemmorhage of the spine. Moshier arrived at the conclusion after a second examination. The blow that killed the young heavyweight was the jab to the jaw immediately after the opening of the contest, it is believed, and not the blow over the heart.

Tommy Burns took charge of McCarty's body today, an dordered it prepared for shipment tonight. He is awaiting word from McCarty's parents.

Officers Roland, Bell and Campbell responded and upon reaching the scene were told that Archer Sergeant, and John Haskins, both colored, had attacked S. H. Daymude, handling him roughly. The officers arrested the accused and they will be brought before the police court tomorrow morning.

ALEXANDRIA COUNTY SCHOOLS

Report of Superintendent Hodges Makes Fine Showing.

The report of W. T. Hodges, Division Superintendent of Schools of Alexandria County, has been published. Pictures of the various white and colored school houses appear, most of which will bear favorable comparison to similar institutions in any part of the country.

"Carne" and "Kemper" schools are named after well known Alexandrians who filled the office of superintendent of schools in past years, and who labored for the advancement of public education at a time when the affairs of public schools of Alexandria city and county were under one board.

Mr. Hodge's report is an interesting document containing considerable information concerning public instruction, as well as many practical suggestions concerning the betterment of the schools.

The public school system of the county is now in its forty-second year.

WATCHMAN ASSAULTED.

Victim of Attack May be Fatally Injured.

A posse of Alexandria County yesterday engaged in a search for two men who early in the morning wrested a shot gun from Charles Butts, 34 years old ,a crippled watchman of the Simmons Foundry in Addison and fractured his skull with it. Butts was taken to the Emergency Hospital in Washington.

Butts was standing in the doorway of the foundry about 3 o'clock, when the two men approached him and asked him for a drink. He told them he didn't know where they could get any whiskey and their manner became so threatening that he limped to the office of the Potomac Brick Company nearbyand borowed a double barrel shot gun.

On the way back to the foundry the men leaped from behind a brick kiln. One struck him on the head with a brick and the other snatched the gun. They beat him until the stock of the gun broke, and then left him lying on the car tracks.

The unconscious man was found a few minutes later by Samuel Killman, a watchman of the brick yards, who, with Joseph Bussman, placed him in a buggy and drove to Emergency Hospital.

CARDINALS VS. NATIONALS.

Easy Victory For Alexandrians—Heals Old Sore.

The game between the Cardinal A. C., and the National A. C., of Washington, which was played on Jones' Point yesterday afternoon was a very interesting game, although one-sided. It was sweet revenge for the Cardinals, as they had suffered defeat by the score of 7 to 1 at the hands of the Nationals, and yesterday's victory, by score of 13 to 1, not only heals the old sore, but ties up the series.

Gauzza, the first man to face Cox, who was twirling for the Cardinals, tore off a lucky double but was left stranded at the midway bag as Cox struck out two men and the third was retired at first, Cox to Astryke. For the remaining six innings Cox only allowed one scratch hit.

The Nationals scored their lone run in the sixth inning on two bases on balls and a scratch hit.

The Cardinals scored two runs in the first, and in the second Jones lead off with a hit which was followed in rapid order by the entire team, eight runs crossed the pan before the side was retired. Another run was produced in the fourth, and two in the fifth, bringing the total up to thirteen.

The features of the game was the pitching of Cox, who fanned twelve men and Astryke's clean steal of second, third and home.

The Cardinals play Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the coming week, and good games are promised.

WEATHER THIS WEEK.

No More Seasonable Warm Conditions Expected This Week.

Unsettled weather will open the coming week throughout the country east of the Missouri river, according to the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin.

"There will be showers Monday and Tuesday in the great central valleys and the Lake Region," the bulletin said, "and on Tuesday or Wednesday in the Middle Atlantic States and New England. In the Central West generally fair weather should prevail about the middle of the week, followed by unsettled conditions at the close, while in the East the weather will be fair during the closing days of the week. For the South, the Southwest and the extreme Central west present indications favor fair weather generally, while in the Northwest fair weather will also prevail, except about the middle of the week, when local showers are probable.

"It will be warmer in the South, but there are no immediate prospects of unseasonably warm weather over any portion of the country. There will be frosts Monday morning in the interior of New England and Eastern New York and low temperatures will continue for a day or two over the northern and eastern portions of the country, followed by warmer conditions by the middle of the week."

CERTIFICATES WILL NOT BE REQUIRED

Immediate Enforcement of Episcopal Council Resolution Not Likely.

EXPLANATION IS MADE

Alexandria Clergymen Do Not Think Time is Ripe For Action—Are Convinced Move is a Wise One.

No immediate action will be taken by the Episcopal clergymen in Alexandria looking to the enforcement of the resolution passed by the Diocesan Council of the Protetesant Episcopal Church, in Charlottesville Thursday, setting forth that it is desirable that ministers of the diocese of Virginia shall declare their determination to perform the marriage ceremony of the church only when the man to be married shall obtain from the family physician of the intended bride a certificate of freedom from communicable disease of immoral origin.

The announcement of the passage of the resolution, which is a decided departure from the conservatism that has heretofore marked the proceedings of the Episcopal Church in Virginia and places it foremost among the dioceses in the United States in works of a social nature, has created considerable comment and speculation here where the three Episcopal Churches number among their membership many of the wealthiest and most prominent families of the community.

The resolution as passed by the Council is as follows:

"It is the sense of this Council that, for the sake of the protection of women, and for the sake of a higher appeal to men, it is desirable that ministers of the diocese, as rapidly as they can, secure such a co-operation from the physicians of their communities as shall satisfy them that their position will be effective, either by themselves, or in conjunction with ministers of other churches, shall declare their determination to perform the marriage service of the church only when the man to be married shall secure from the family physician of his intended bride, or from some other physician certified to by the bride's physician, a certificate of freedom of communicable disease of immoral origin."

The resolution is the result of a year's work by the social service commission of the diocese, of which the Rev. Dr. W. Russell Bowie, of Richmond, is the chairman.

The Rev. P. Parker Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church, declared that he would take no action in the matter until he had been advised by either the bishop of the diocese or the secretary of the Council. He was of the opinion that the Council could not take such an important step by a simple resolution, but should enact a canon which would have to be introduced one year and passed the next. He thought the action of the Council was a decided step in right direction but fears that too much responsibility was placed on the clergy. He believes that a certificate of freedom from disease should be required by the clerk of the court before a license is granted.

The Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, thinks that the time is not ripe in Alexandria for the strict enforcement of the resolution. He believes that it will require several years of education of the public before he will be able to obtain the co-operation of physicians and others to take a stand on the matter that will be effective. Mr. Morton is a strong advocate of the position the church has taken.

Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Church takes a similar position to that of the other two clergymen. He thinks that the church has done aw ise thing in calling attention to a matter which should be given the most careful consideration by all interested in the progress of the race. He does not think that it is a matter that can be rigidly enforced at present.

MAKE LARGE PROFIT IN PROPERTY SALE

Presbyterians Dispose of Their Publishing House in Richmond.

MADE OVER $100,000.

Publications Committee May Erect in Near Future a New Structure For Their Business.

Richmond, Va., May 26.—Papers will be recorded in the Chancery Court today transferring from the Presbyterian Committee of Publication to Miller & Rhoads, Inc., the property at the northwest corner of Sxth and Grace streets for $150,000 net.

Negoiations have been in progress for some weeks; authority to make the transfer having been given by the Committee of Publication early last week, and the papers were signed and the transfer effected Saturday morning. The Committee of Publication reserves the use of the present building on Sixth street for one year and three months and also reserves all fixtures and interior appliances.

The Southern Presbyterian Church has made a clear profit of more than $100,000 in less than ten years, through its investment. The price is a fraction more than $2,000 per front foot.

The Presbyterian Committee of Publication is an incorporated body appointed by the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly as a Church agency, having especial charge of the preparation and distribution of Sunday School lesson leaflets and instruction books. The committee conducts a retail book store and a general book publishing business, having issued a number of religious and semi religious volumes, some of which have had a large sale. The chief business however,is the publication of works on the International Sunday School Lessons for the special use in Presbyterian Sunday schools, the publications being sent out from Richmond literally by the million. A branch office is maintained at Texarkana, Ark.

About ten years ago the committee sold its former home—the old McAdams & Bery building,at the southeast corner of 10th and Main streets, now a part of the site of the American National Bank. It than purchased from Mrs. Norman V. Randolph the old Randolph dwelling at the Northeast corner of Sixth and Grace streets, and running basck two-thirds of the block to the property of the Valentine estate on Broad street, for $25,000.

The Committee of Publication has not yet determined where it will locate, Its busines shas grown rapidly, especially in the publication of Sabbath school literature, publication of hymn books and books of other character and as a mail order house for religous books generally. It may abandon its retail store altogether and either erect or rent a large warehouse suited to the needs of its growing business, with much larger floor space than its old buiding afforded.

Chicago—Burglars locked William Yeger and members of his family in their rooms, cut the telephone wires, and fled with $20,000 worth of jewelry.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Large Gathering at Prince and Washington Streets Saturday Evening

Confederate Memorial Day was duly observed in Alexandria late Saturday, while the members of R. E. Camp of Confederate Veterans accompanied by a large concourse of people, young and old, gathered in front of the monument at the intersection of Prince and Washington streets to witness the exercises and listen to the appropriate music. After the services at this point the veterans and many others repaired to the Young People's Building where a thrilling oration was delivered by Rev. Dr. J. Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church.

The members of the camp assembled in their hall, and, headed by the Alexandria Band, marched to the monument, at Washington and Prince streets, where invocation was pronounced by William J. Morton, chaplain of M. D. Corse Camp, Sons of Veterans. A choir, under the direction of Miss Blanche Rotchford, sang patriotic airs. A choir of Boy Scouts also gave several selections.

Following these exercises, the veterans, carrying their time-honored and battle-scarred flags assembled, headed by the Light Infantry, who fired a salute of three volleys. The infantry company and the veterans marched to Christ Church cemetery, accompanied by a squad of police and many others, where patriotic songs were sung and the flowers were placed over the mound beneath which rests the remains of a number of unidentified Confederate dead. The sounding of taps brought the exercises to a close.

Rev. Dr. Allison in his oration said in part:

"We strew our heroes graves with flowers today.
Wherever swells the humblest soldiers mound,
Beside the way, beneath some sheltering tree, let fall a flower,
Tis' consecrated ground."

The memory of the Southern soldier will go down to posterity as bright as the gleam of his stainless sword.

His name is imperishable and will be found among the "immortals."

He followed the fortunes of war until the Southern flag was forever furled behind the clouds at Appomattox, and the fratricidal war was ended which had drenched a land in blood.

The smoke of battle has vanished, the clouds of sectional bitterness and hate are broken and through the lifts shines the sunlight of truth revealing the southern soldier, and in this clear light the entire civilized world now sees him in the attitude in which he stood when that fierce strife began, and how he responded to the call made upon his honor, his courage, his patriotism, and his loyalty in the defense of the right as he saw it.

We rejoice today in a re-united nation, "where the war drum beats no longer and the battle flags are furled." I plead for a present day patriotism, a love of country that will inspire us to live for our nation. It is a plea for a broader and better patriotism. There should be no sectionalism. There should be no north, no south, no east, no west, but "one and inseparable,' now and forever." The vision of the citizen should be broad and he should inquire not what will help any section, but what will inspire civic righteousness and foster a civic life throughout the union.

And there should be a better patriotism, there should be fewer politicians, and more statesmen. Principle should rule not policy and manhood should be above mammon. The citizen should realize that the power and glory of a nation is found in the personal purity, and individual integrity of its citizenship. The speaker referred in a forceful way to surviving veterans and prayed that they might answer to the great roll call above.

RUN AS OPEN SHOPS.

Granite Cutters' Strike in Richmond Unchanged.

Richmond, May 26.—The temporary association which was organized by ten local granite and marble dealers and contractors to opopse the demands of the cutters for an icrease in wages from $3.50 to $4 per day, is still resolved not to grant the demand. The shops, as the result, are being conducted on the "open" policy.

The positions vacated by the cutters when they struck May 1, when their demands were first refused, have been held open for them at the old wages and conditions but not one has gone to work. Some non-union men have come to Richmond and been placed in the positions and, after this week, if the union men are not ready to go back to work, all the positions will be filled by outsiders.

The cutters, comprising all those of local shops and nearby quarries, have caused a cessation of business in that line by their strike. They seen as positiveas the contractors in their attitude and, if both sides remain firm, the coming of non-union men and the continuance of either the "open shop" or the non-union system here will result.

TAKES CASE TO HIGHER COURT.

Appeals From Ruling Concerning Taxation of Municipal Porperty.

Richmond May 26.—The State Court of Appeals has granted a writ of error in t hecase of the Commonwealth of Virginia against the city of Richmond, appealed from the Hustings Court of Richmond, in the matter of the state's taxation of municipal owned property, in which the city won a victory in the lower court. The case now goes to the docket of the higher tribunal for argument at the June term. The municipality, it will be remembered, contended that the Commonwealth had no right to tax municipal-owned property which is devoted to the common good, and the lower court held with that view.

The Richmond city property involved in the prposed state taxation is the First and Second markets, valued at $373,000; the auditorium, $60,000; the water works system, $4,000,000; the gas plants and system, $3,500,0000. These properties are subjected to an aggregate tax for the year 1912 of about $35,640.50.

The Supreme Court has also granted a writ of error in a similar case of the Commonwealth against the Y. M. C. A., of Lynchburg, which is appealed from the Corporation Court of that city. The litigation grew out of the effort of the state to tax property belonging to that institution.

William M. Arnheim, a prominent business man of Tarboro, N. C., and Mrs. Edna Morris, socially well-known, were killed and Mrs. Arnheim dangerously hut yesterday evening ,near Tarboro, when an automobile, in which a party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Arnheim, Mr. and Mrs. Morris and a Mr. Mathews were riding, plunged into a ditch half filed with water.

A dislocated neck caused the death Saturday in Calgary, Alberta, of Luther McCarthy during his fight with Arthur Pelkey.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE TRAFFIC LAW.

In accordance with the instructions of the Board of Police Commissioners at their meeting last Wednesday night, the members of the police force are using their Argos eyes on the movements of all vehicles which appear on our streets. Twenty-eight persons charged with violating the provisions of the ordinance by passing on the wrong side of the street, were at the bar of the police court this morning to show cause why they should not be fined. A nominal assesment was made in each case as a reminder that the authorities are determined to enforce the law against all offenders.

While the traffic in our city is not of a nature to bring congestion on any thoroughfare the law, which if observed would minimize danger as well as inconvenience, as it is as necessary in Alexandria as elsewhere, and all interested should obey it to the letter.

All cities of any importance in the world have been compelled to enact traffic laws and no doubt many accidents have been averted by their observance.

On one accasion when the late Dr. Livingstone had returned from Africa, a man asked him if he was in continual danger from lions while in the dark continent. The Doctor replied that he was in more danger of being knocked down and run over in London than from the king of beasts in Africa.

It is so in all cities ,great and small, especially when thoughtless and careless persons have charge of teams.

But all the surveillance should not be exercised over teams, automobiles, motorcycles, bicycles, etc., but there is a responsibility upon the part of pedestrians. That they should "stop, look and listen," especially at intersections goes without saying.

Many little children, some on tricycles and in wagons, others on roller skates appear on the streets. They thoughtlessly imagine that everything will get out of their way. Parents should exercise supervision over them as far as possible. Yesterday evening at a certain intersection a boy about 5 years old deliberately rode a tricycle in front of an oncoming automobile. The owner was on the alert and brought the machine to a standstill giving the little one time to run around the machine.

Attention has been called several times to the practice on the part of some pedestrians riding bicycles on sidewalks. After reaching the end of the vitrified brick roadway they use sidewalks until they strike another smooth roadway. A law forbidding the use of the sidewalks for bicycles has been in existence for a score of years.

THE CHUHCH TAKES IMPORTANT STEP.

Possibly no immediate steps will be taken by the Episcopal clergy of the Diocese of Virginia to carry out the provisions of a resolution which was passed at the Council in Charlottesville last week to require a health certificate, indicating freedom from certain diseases, before marrying by a priest of the church.

The three Alexandria clergymen have given very excellent reasons why they will not attempt any enforcement of the resolution at once.

We believe, as they do, that its passage at this time, is for the purpose of declaring the views of the church on a subject which is being discussed in professional and ecclesiastical circles the world over. An ideal is set forth which the church will follow but the words of the resolution are too general to expect an attempt will be made to carry out a strict compliance with the spirit which animated its passage.

In Richmond, however, the clergy are preparing to take a very decided stand and an agreement is now being considered which sets a definite date after which certificates will be required from all men who present themselves for marriage.

Rev. Mr. Phillips, sets forth an excellent idea in his discussion of the subject. He favors the requirement o fa certificate as a prerequisite to a marriage license and while he does not go as far as to say that the state should pass a law prohibiting the marriage of persons who may be afflicted with communicable disease, he desires the fact stated in the license so that the minister can be placed on guard as well as the other party interested in the ceremony.

Certainly the Episcopal Church in Virginia has taken a step that other denominations should promptly follow, as little can be done without the co-operation of other ministers in the matter. The uniting of all the churches on a sane and reasonable basis to plan regulations and bring about the passage of new laws would help much to prevent certain sins of the fathers from being visited upon their children even unto the third and fourth generation.

DIVER'S HEAD FAST IN MUD.

Boy Shows How He Can Beat Carnival Woman Stunt.

Chester, Pa., May 26.—Hugh, son of Policeman Hugh Ryan, tried to imitate the Star diving girl who appeared in this city with a carnival show last week, and nearly lost his life.

Ryan and a party of boy friends stood on the bank of the diving pool this morning and he told his companions he was a better diver than any woman. They asked him to show them.

Immediately Ryan dived into the pool, but he made the dive too perpendicular, and his head stuck in the mud up to his shoulders.

The boys gave the alarm when Ryan failed to come to the surface, and John Cardwell, an officer of Company B, Sixth Infantry, whose armory is close by, responded, dived into the pool and brought the boy out. Young Ryan was resuscitated and sent home.

Portage, Wis., May 26.—Manager Harry Sherman, of the Sherman-Kelly Stock Company, was seriously injured at the Opera House Saturday night during the struggle scene of the second act of the play.

Miss Florence Frey was to strike Sherman with a beer bottle. As she raised the missile over Sherman's head the beer bottle exploded and the glass penetrated Sherman's face, nearly severing his nose. It was feared he would bleed to death, but a doctor in the audience finally stopped the flow. SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

DEALING WITH A THIEF.

It Was an Unusual Method, but It Proved Effective.

Governor Thomas Chittenden of Vermont is remembered for his great kindness of heart as well as for his ability and force of character. He was the first governor of the state and lived in the liberal manner that befitted his office. His cellar, as was the custom of those days, was well stocked every fall with provisions.

One winter night the governor's rest was broken by sounds coming from his cellar. He left his bed quietly and, with a candle ready to light, made his way in the direction of the noise. As he reached the cellar he struck a light and saw a man taking great pieces of pork out of his meat barrel and stowing them away in a bag.

The governor approached the intruder and in a commanding voice said: "Go on, sir! Fill up that bag and be off. You ought to be ashamed of yourself to disturb honest people at this time of night!"

The thief shrank back, evidently much frightened.

"Be quick!" continued the governor. "It is no fit time to keep me shivering here!"

So stern was the governor's manner that the man was compelled to obey.

"Now, begone!" went on Governor Chittenden. "When you are again in need of food come to me and say so, and I will give you more. Do not pillage my house at night. If I ever have the smallest reason to suspect you of another such act you shall be punished for this offense as the law provides."

It is pleasant to know that the man came to the governor the next day to ask for employment, in order that he might pay for what he had taken, and that work was found for him, which he performed steadily and well.—Youth's Companion.

FATE OF OLD BOOTY.

The Only Judicially Accepted Ghost Story on Record.

Stromboli, the island volcano, known as the lighthouse of the Mediterranean, which is in violent eruption, once figured in a court of law in connection with one of the most circumstantial ghost stories on record. In 1688 a Mrs. Booty brought an action of slander against a certain Captain Barnaby for saying that he had seen old Booty running into the flames of hell, pursued by the devil.

The words were admitted, but for the defense it was proved that May 15, 1687, the day of old Booty's death, the captain, with a large party of friends, went ashore at Stromboli to shoot rabbits. At about 3:30 in the afternoon two men were seen running toward the volcano. Captain Barnaby exclaimed, "Lord bless me, the foremost is old Booty, my next door neighbor!" They then vanished in the flames, a fact of which every one took note.

In addition to the testimony of Captain Barnaby and his friends, old Booty's clothes were brought into court and identified by several witnesses as being similar to those worn by the foremost man who ran into the crater. The judge, Chief Justice Sir Robert Wright, was so impressed by this evidence that he said: "Lord have mercy upon me and grant that I may never see what you have seen. One, two or three may be mistaken, but not thirty."

Mrs. Booty lost the day, and the case still remains the only judicially accepted ghost story on record.—London Chronicle.

Family Complications.

Many ingenious complications in genealogy have been compiled, but the following one has the merit of being definite as to time, place and people. It concerns a family living at Faversham, in Kent, in February, 1760. Old Hawood had two daughters by his first wife, of whom the elder was married to John Cashick, the son, and the younger to John Cashick, the father. Cashick senior had a daughter by his first wife. This daughter old Hawood married and by her had a son, which led to the complication summed up in the following distich, supposed to be spoken by Cashick's second wife:

My father is my son, and I am my mother's mother.
My sister is my daughter, and I'm grandmother to my brother.

—London Tatler.

Paternal Germany.

A government, says a writer in the Twentieth Century Magazine, which tells you how to carry your umbrella, which forbids ladies who wear long hatpins to enter railway trains, which fines you if you throw cigar stubs or papers on the street, which does not permit your children to make a noise so that others are disturbed—such a government does restrict individual liberty, but just as certainly it enlarges the common liberties and pleasure of everybody. The government thus eulogized is that of Germany, which the writer quoted prefers to our "go-as-you-please" system.

One Use For Style.

"The Whifferbys put on a great deal of style, considering the fact that they hardly know where they will get tomorrow's dinner."

"Some method in their madness though. The more style they put on the more apt they are to be invited out to dinner."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

COMPARISON OF NAVIES.

California Congressman Gives Reason Why There Will be no War.

Washington, May 26.—Representative Stevens, of California, recognized as an authority on the Japanese problem, say these facts show war is an impossibility between the two countries.

The naval strength of the United States and Japan as as follows, according to the latest reports of both governments :

Dreadnaughts, Japan,2; United States, 8.

Other battleships,Japan 18; United States, 24.

Cruisers, Japan, 27; United States 25.

Torpedo boats and destroyers, Japan, 112; United States, 61.

Submarines, Japan, 13; United States, 28.

Total tonnage, Japan, 471,962.

Total tonnage, United States, 763,132 tonnage.

Japan has a crushing debt largely brought on by the war with Russia. Her annual interest in this debt is $71,000,000. The amount of the debt is $1,271,000,000.

United States interest charges yearly is $22,000,000, less than one-third of Japan's. United States public debt is $1,027,000,000.

The average Japanese laborer must contribute one month's work a year to pay his family's share of debt interest. The American workman only has to contribue one-half a day a year.

"America is Japan's greatest market," said Mr. Stevens, "and I believe the Japanese would think a long time before closcing our ports to its products. Nor do I think the Japanese government would resort to war with America to divert the attention of the people from internal revolt which might be contemplated against it. The Japanese rulers are not the kind of men who will sacrifice thousands of lives and millions of money to keep themselves in power.'

Mr. Stephens attributed the war talk" to sensational newspapers and to the "inspiration of manufacturers and dealers in arms and ammunition."

FIGHT FOR SOUVENIRS.

Scramble For Bits of Bride's Garter at Royal Wedding.

The nuptial apartments of the newly married Prince and Princess Ernst Augustus of Cumberland, in the royal castle in Berlin, were the scene Saturday night of a scramble for souvenirs which would have done credit to an American crowd.

It took place in connection with the traditional distribution of bits of the bride's garter. The souvenirs actually distributed were the tiny strips of pale blue satin, stamped with the bride's nitials and the date of the wedding.

Almost the entire wedding company, numbering hundreds of bejeweled ladies and gentlemen, representing the cream of the German aristocracy, engaged in a free fight for the ribbons.

Many ladies emerged with faces badly scratched by the pushing and shoving of generals and gold-laced diplomats. Scores of women had their long trains and veils ruined.

ENGLAND'S DILEMMA.

Effect of War Between the United States and Japan.

London, May 26.—The powerful English organs just appear to be awakening to the possibilities of the alliance between Great Britain and Japan and to the sentiment to which the British colonies would hold in event of war betwene Japan and the United States.

"The prospect of a war in which Great Britain would be fighting for a principle that is an anathema to her own dominions," says the London Spectator, "is causing much anxety throughout the British Empire."

Although it believes the possibility of war breaking out of Great Britain being a party to it hrough her alliance with Japan to be vague, the Spectator declares.

"We doubt whether the empire could survive such an outrage to the feelings of a large and important part of its white population."

The Saturday Review urges Great Britain to stand by the alliance with Japan because America is working for supremacy in the Pacific on lines that are unfriendly both to Great Britain and Japan."

RESCUERS NEAR DEATH.

Boat's Crew Seeking Man Overboard, Swept Into Sea.

New York, May 26.—Running into frequent squalls, during one of which one man, a coal trimmer, lost his life and a rescuing crew of five men nearly lost their lives, the steamship Carmania arrived here yesterday afternoon from Liverpool.

After a squall Thursday morning speed was reduced, when cries of "man overboard!" were heard. Engines were reversed and a boat lowered.

For two hours the search continued without seeing the body. Upon the return of the lifeboat to the steamship the waves were sweeping against the Carmania with great force and in attempting to get aboard the five men were all but thrown into the sea as a high wave dashed the lifeboat against the side of the ship.

Fire In Washington.

Scantily dressed, the occupants of the Stafford, a four-story apartment house at 1769 Lanier Place northwest Washington,were driven to the street shortly after 3 o'clock this morning by fire which started on the top floor of the building.

The fire apparently had been burning for some time before any one on the outside saw the flames or those in the building smelled smoke. As soon as it was noticed the coolest of the tenants ran from apartment to apartment awakening the occupants and all escaped. The loss will reach $5,000.
